What The Non-Financial Manager Needs To Know About Financial and Managerial Accounting

Support your business decisions with financial back-up!

Our premier financial and managerial accounting course for business leaders!

This seminar has been designed to transform the non-financial manager into a more effective team member who can propose, analyze and evaluate financial decisions. It does so by providing clear examples of the content, concepts and terminology of financial systems, making them easy to understand and apply immediately at your workplace. An ideal course for leaders who must frequently apply financial tools to analyze their own problems and projects. Plus it features our highest-rated instructor to help make your financial learning practical and enjoyable.

Top Take-Aways

1. What to look for in a corporate report and how to analyze that information to put it to your advantage
2. How to talk to financial people in your language – and their language
3. How control systems should work and how they actually do work
4. How to make capital budgeting and investment decisions
5. How to clarify who is responsible for what parts of an organization's financial strategy – in order to know who to approach with your concerns
6. How to evaluate both short and long term operating decisions using financial data
7. How to prepare operating budgets, cost budgets and capital budgets

Who Should Attend

This seminar will particularly benefit those who frequently use financial and accounting information in their decision-making processes, and who wish to gain a better fundamental understanding of financial systems. No previous accounting or financial background is required, however, a very basic knowledge of accounting would be useful. Regularly attended by:

- Business owners and general managers
- Corporate and administrative managers
- Sales and marketing managers
- Plant and operations managers
- Purchasing managers
- Divisional and business unit managers
